1.Course Outline

This course is about understanding how people in government agencies behave, react, and interpret events. We will also examine the role of government organizations' environment, system, structures, and processes in shaping behavior, which ultimately helps us explain what government organizations do, how they really work, and why they do it.

2. Objectives

By the end of the course,

(1) Students will have a comprehensive view of administrative behaviors in government agencies.
(2) Students will be able to explain/analyze a case using major theoretical/conceptual frameworks.

3. Teaching Method

The course will be compsosed of readings, lectures, presentations, case studies, and individual/group assignments.

4. Evaluation Method

(1) Attendance (10%): Students are expected to come to class on time. Three late attendance will be counted as an absence. Your excused absence requires to be documented, and if you do not attend a class more than once without any reason, it will negatively affect your attendance score.

(2) Participation and presentation (15%): There will be team presentations throughout the course. In addition, there will be small group discussions once or twice per month. Students are expected to actively engage in these activities.

(3) Reflection Paper(20%)

(4) Midterm Exam (25%)

(5) Final Exam (30%)

5. Assignments

Reflection Paper (Due date: TBA)

Use the conceptual/theoretical frameworks provided by the chapter you present to analyze any relevant Korean case. Discuss the limits and advantages of the frameworks and assess the utility of them for enhancing our understanding of government behaviors.
