

RETI 2017 in Okinawa

"Future Perspectives for Island Society: Sustainability and Self-Management"

November 17 – 21, 2017

at University of the Ryukyus, Okinawa, Japan

Hosted by University of the Ryukyus

Organized by International Institute for Okinawan Studies(IIOS)

Early Registration and Call for Proposals closes on 9/15

Sesoko Marine Science Laboratory, University of the Ryukyus

SCHEDULE:

[Symposium] Nov. 17 (Fri) – 18 (Sat)

[Excursion] Nov. 19 (Sun)

[Autumn School] Nov. 20 (Mon) – 21 (Tue)

*For more information, please visit

RETI 2017 Website at

<http://goo.gl/7r55up>

E-mail: intl_events@to.jim.u-ryukyu.ac.jp

RETI (Réseau d'Excellence des Territoires Insulaires)

is a network for island universities aiming at:

- Combining globalization and identities: The concept of island status
- Connecting the scattered
- Turning island status into a collective asset

